- That are ready to put a halt to delaying a life with pleasure.

- Who wants to awaken the spark of pleasure in the way of working and living.
- Who desires to experience a space for her own, to let go of the checklists and deadlines of work.

So if you long for a shift of perspective about pleasure in your life, and want to rediscover your pleasure among like-minded people who understand and support you, this is for you. Sometimes it may seem difficult to escape the pigeonhole we have placed ourselves in. This is a time for you, to surrender and let go.

We are intertwining our inspirations, having at the center art, play, presence and pleasure. Having a good time with ourselves and awakening a path in our lives that perhaps is asleep or needs more light. If this resonates with you, join us to this experience on ZOOM. This will be a small group so reserve your place with anticipation ;).
